

DE ROOPOORTE RESTAURANT

In the past so-called « Amsterdam » or « De Roopoorte ».

Deep house of three bays and three storeys under a saddle roof (Flemish tiles) . Bell gable under a trianglular pediment from the mid-18th century. Upper windows were modified in the course of the 19th century, see traces on the piers of the originally continuous sills. Adding storefront in 1933 and modifying it in 1946 and later.

Brick construction with procession of bluestone for the substructure, enlivened with imitation joints, cordons and banding for the gable top. Slightly arched upper windows in flat frame with Rococo keystone.
